Questions 26-30 [3 point for the correct answer]

26. What lesson does Daniel learn from his experience?
Daniel had always loved taking photos with his phone. One summer, he decided to enter a photography contest in his town. At first, he was nervous because most other participants had professional cameras, while he only had his phone. Still, Daniel spent several days walking around the city, trying to capture something special.
One evening, after the rain, he noticed how the streetlights reflected in the puddles. The picture looked simple but beautiful, and he sent it to the contest. A week later, Daniel was shocked to learn that he had won first place! The judges said his photo showed real emotion and creativity.
From that moment, Daniel understood that passion and a good eye are more important than expensive equipment.
A) He learnt that it is necessary to own a professional camera
B) He studied photography from others
C) He realized that creativity matters more than equipment
D) He became uninterested in taking pictures
E) He thought the contest was unfair

27. What did Lara discover during her trip?
Lara had always dreamed of visiting the mountains. Last summer, she and her family went to a small village near the hills. On the first day, Lara was disappointed because there was no Internet and no shops nearby. She thought the trip would be boring.

However, the next morning, she went for a walk with her father. They climbed a hill and saw a wide green valley covered with wildflowers. Lara listened to the sound of the wind and birds and felt calm in a way she had never felt before. She spent the rest of the week hiking, taking photos, and talking with local people who told her stories about life in the mountains.
When the family returned home, Lara realized that sometimes the best moments happen when you disconnect from technology and just enjoy nature.
A) She wanted to move to countryside
B) She discovered the joy of nature without technology.
C) She made new friends
D) She went there alone to clear her mind
E) She didn't like the peace and quiet

28. What did Tom realize after his cooking experience?
Tom used to think that cooking was boring and difficult. He often ate fast food after school because it was quick and tasty. One day, his older sister invited him to help her make dinner. At first, Tom didn't know what to do, but he started cutting vegetables and mixing ingredients for the soup.
The kitchen smelled amazing, and when the food was ready, everyone sat down together to eat. Tom was surprised by how delicious the soup was and how proud he felt after helping to make it. From that day on, he began cooking small meals on weekends instead of buying junk food.
A) He realized that cooking can be fun and satisfying.
B) He failed to make a soup
C) He started liking fast food even more
D) He did not help his sister
E) He ate the food alone

29. What did Maya learn from her weekend experience?
Maya loves movies and usually spends her weekends watching films at home. Last Saturday, her friend invited her to a small outdoor music festival. At first, Maya wasn't very excited — she thought it would be too noisy and crowded. But when she arrived, she was surprised by the friendly atmosphere. People were singing, dancing, and enjoying live bands together.
Maya tried some new street food, joined a dance circle, and even talked with the musicians after their performance. When she got home that night, she felt happier than she had in weeks. She realized that sometimes real entertainment isn't just about watching — it's about taking part and sharing the moment with others.
